The Cycle of Creation and Change

“Every act of creation is first an act of destruction.”

-Pablo Picasso

Change is at the heart of creativity, as Picasso said, “Every act of creation is first an act of destruction.” Our summer community art classes embrace this spirit, encouraging artists to explore, experiment, and reinvent. It’s a season of growth - perfect for letting go of limits and embracing artistic transformation.

It will include an odd, eclectic collection of his early commercial work and "art stuff", as well as a few off and end selections from his studio days, and equestrian work. Plus, a whole lot of recent root and twig pictures and found objects, "Masterpieces."

Join us for pizza on May 2nd, as we honor Butch.

EXHIBITS

OLIVIA IMMITT

Date: July 1- 31

Gallery viewing Time: 8am – 4:30 pm

Artist Reception: Saturday, July 12

Artist Reception Time: 6:00 – 8:00 p.m.

For Ages: All

Fee: Free

Olivia Immitt is a multidisciplinary artist whose acrylic painting and drawings on paper and canvas explore symbolism behind encounters with animals, elements, and nature. Her style, best described as simplistic realism, captures the essence of her subjects with clarity and emotion.

Two years ago, Olivia transitioned to teaching art and meditation classes independently. Painting remains her way of centering herself, a meditative practice that parallels her work in helping others find peace and presence. Through her art and teaching, she fulfills her lifelong dream of sharing creativity with others.

SPOTLIGHT

ART CORNER AT THE FARMERS MARKET

Registration Opens: No registration needed.

For ages: All Ages

Materials Fee: FREE

Instructor: Mawnie Belcher or Cortney Moses

There will be Community Arts activities for children of all ages at the Whitley County Farmers Market. Activities for the whole family.

Tuesday Market – Downtown Corbin

Saturday Market – Whitley County Extension Office at Goldbug.

More information will be posted on our Facebook and Instagram pages with the details of that month's activities.

SUCCESS STORY

Whitley County's interest in ceramics is growing, with high demand for pottery classes. Limited public studios and start-up costs of $10,000+ make access challenging. To address this, Arts Agent Cortney Moses launched an open studio program at the Extension Community Arts Center. For four months, three days a week, eight students accessed a fully equipped studio, logging 74 visits and 140 hours. The program fostered skill development, collaboration, and self-directed learning. Similar programs cost $155 per month ($620 total), but students paid just $50, saving $570 each. By reducing financial barriers, the Extension Ceramics Studio made artistic growth more accessible to the community.
